Hi Michelle,

Dan Snow (Univ Nebraska Lincoln) reached out to me several months ago about a potential research collaboration at the AltEn site. We've had a few conversations, and it came up that you were collecting some interesting samples. Jeff and Tom (copied) are interested in ecological exposures, so I wanted to connect you to potentially start a research discussion. We only know the bare minimum about what you're doing, so hypotheses, goals, and samples collected might be a good place to start. Tom and Jeff and fill you in on their interests and tools as well. Let me know if I can further assist with any coordination!
